

Company Support – Keep Doing Good!

With RUNITE, we want to encourage people to get active throughout October while raising funds for the Prader-Willi Syndrome Association.

What are we moving for?

Prader-Willi syndrome is a rare genetic disorder that causes a constant and insatiable feeling of hunger, which can become life-threatening. It is also associated with cognitive impairments, emotional challenges and a daily life that requires a great deal of structure. For those affected and their families, this creates an enormous burden every single day. As a self-help organization, the German Prader-Willi Syndrome Association is committed to raising awareness, supporting research and helping affected families. Through workshops, counselling services, holiday camps and many other activities, the association provides relief, encourages exchange and improves quality of life.

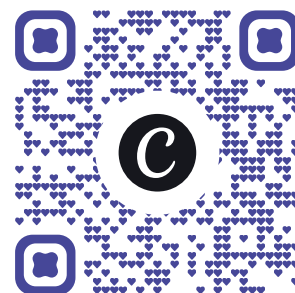

How can my company support RUNITE?

Taking part is easy. Whether running, jogging, walking, hiking, swimming, cycling or using a wheelchair, every metre counts! From 1 to 31 October, we invite participants to collect as many kilometres as possible. As a company, you can:

1. make a one-off donation,
2. participate as a corporate team and sponsor the kilometres completed by your employees
3. sponsor the kilometres completed by Marc and/or Gerd by donating a fixed amount per kilometre.

As the highlight of the campaign, RUNITE initiators Marc and Gerd will run approximately 80 kilometres to Augsburg on 11 and 12 October. Their destination is Josefinum, one of Germany's leading centres of expertise for Prader-Willi syndrome. There, they will be welcomed by the head of the centre, Dr Lämmer, representatives of the German Prader-Willi Syndrome Association, as well as affected individuals and their families. Chris Frumolt, a photographer from the trail-running community, will document the event.

RUNITE was launched two years ago. In the first year, we raised around €400. In the second year, that figure had already grown to €5,500. In 2026, we want to take it to the next level! What started as a personal project has grown into a community of runners, companies and people who simply want to help. We appreciate everyone who takes part, every metre completed and every donation received.

Because in the end, every metre counts!

Initiators: Marc Allocca & Gerd Schmidle

Email: info@runite-pws.de

Phone: +49 160 7176368

runite.pws

scan me!